

Children's Commission.

Attorney Resource Letter:

For Attorneys Handling Child Protective Services Cases

October 20, 2017

ICYMI: Children's Commission has updated its website!

In case you missed it this summer, the Children's Commission unveiled an updated and easier to use website. The refreshed homepage now features tabs to more easily direct judges and attorneys to resources. Current updates are also found on the homepage with the latest publication featured in the new "In Focus" section. Site visitors will also find quick links to access the Texas Child Protection Law Bench Book, information about Commission meetings, and announcements on free and low-cost training available for judges and attorneys. A comprehensive list of past Attorney Resource Letters can also be linked to directly from the homepage. To take a tour of the Children's Commission new website, please visit <http://texaschildrenscommission.gov/>

Also, in September, the Children's Commission celebrated its ten-year anniversary! The Children's Commission would like to express its gratitude to the many partners and stakeholders who have helped develop and bring about significant and meaningful change to the Texas child welfare system. For highlights of projects, reports, and collaborative work over the past ten years, please link here: 10 Year Anniversary Brochure

Follow us on Twitter @TXChildrensComm

To join this list or unsubscribe, please link here.

Information provided by the Children's Commission should not be read as a commentary by the Supreme Court of Texas or any other court. The Children's Commission website is not equipped to facilitate dialogue or conversation about matters related to the information in this communicate. For more information about the Children's Commission, please visit our website at texaschildrenscommission.gov